

Court Orders Integration of Virginia Schools

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Two federal courts in separate rulings struck new blows at Virginia's crumbling anti-integration program Friday by strengthening desegregation orders for Arlington and Norfolk schools.

The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered Arlington County officials to admit four Negro children to the all-white Stratford Junior High School Feb. 2 — the start of the new term.

The ruling upheld U. S. District Judge Albert V. Bryan's Sept. 2 decision that the transfer of the four students from a Negro school was denied on the basis of race. The appeals court withheld further study a decision on the transfer of 26 Negro pupils turned down by Bryan.

At about the same time, a special three-judge federal court issued a permanent injunction prohibiting state officials and Norfolk school authorities from closing any public school or grade solely because of integration while other schools are kept open on a segregated basis.

The injunction was the outgrowth of the court's ruling Monday that struck down the state's school-closing law. That ruling coincided with decisions by the Virginia Supreme Court that knocked all the key statutes of the state's massive resistance program.

There appeared to be an inclination on the part of school authorities in both communities to allow desegregation. But members of the Arlington School Board indicated an appeal will be made and a stay sought. And the Norfolk situation was confused because of a City Council proposal to cut off funds for all grades above the sixth to both white and Negro schools.

Army Considers Site in Arkansas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Little Rock, Ark., is one of the cities under consideration as the possible site for headquarters of the Arkansas National Guard.

Asked if Campen, Ark., also was under consideration, a spokesman said he could say only that "other cities" in addition to Little Rock are being studied.

Witnesses Are Called in Housing Plan

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leaders called 14 witnesses Friday to counter the Eisenhower administration's appeals for enactment of its own housing program.

The witnesses included spokesmen for the National Housing Conference, the AFL-CIO, Americans for Democratic Action, the Institute of Architects, and others who have called for bigger programs than President Eisenhower has asked.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), presiding over Senate hearings on the hotly disputed program, predicted that a one-package housing bill far broader and more costly than Eisenhower wants will be passed by Congress before the end of February.

The Democrats, with commanding majorities in both Senate and House, are driving for a swift passage of a comprehensive housing program in a single bill. It would contain money and authority the President describes as urgently needed to keep some housing activities alive, plus many other items he believes should be cut or otherwise amended drastically.

Eisenhower has demanded a hold-down on federal spending to achieve a balanced budget.

Norman P. Mason, federal housing administrator, and other administration spokesmen appealed Thursday for action now on emergency needs, with less urgent matters to be considered later.

They called for quick action on a bill to provide 100 million dollars of new money for urban renewal grants, 200 million dollars for college housing loans, and an increase of 8 billion dollars in FHA mortgage insurance authority.

Sparkman told reporters he sees no likelihood that the Senate Banking Committee conducting the hearings would adopt the two-bill approach. He said he feels an omnibus bill would be ready for Senate consideration by Feb. 2.

Pair Escapes Asphyxiation

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Two Negro ministers who barely escaped death by asphyxiation yesterday were reported in serious condition at a hospital here last night.

The Rev. Lawrence Hill of Kansas City, Mo., and the Rev. L. A. Rice of Kansas City, Mo., were found unconscious in their room, a gas heater burning and all doors and windows tightly shut.

They were here for a meeting of the Baptist National Convention.

Describes Life Just 85 Miles From Siberia

(Editor's Note: Sgt. Frank L. Groves has written his family an interesting letter about life at a U. S. base just 85 miles from Russian Siberia. He is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Endicott who operate a tourist court on Highway 67 east. His wife and two children are living with her parents. Mr. Groves' letter follows:

Howdy, I didn't know there was so much snow and ice in the whole world. In fact, I've seen more than half of it pass my window today. Actually it isn't too bad. I'll try to explain where I am, how I got here, what I'm doing and how we go about it as well as conditions.

First I'm at North East Cape on St. Lawrence Island. In case you can't find it, we are 85 miles from Siberia and 100 miles from Alaska in the middle of the Bering Sea. In other words 85 miles from civilization, 100 miles from civilization and 85 miles from "hell" without the benefit of the heat.

The island is about 50 miles long and varies from one to 10 miles in width. Mainly, it is flat frozen tundra jotted by 2,000 foot mountains which rise almost vertically.

There are about 300 of us out here. Two separate squadrons. In addition we have a small group of civilians operating a communications network which we call the "White Alice". Everything is under control of the 712th A. C. W. of which I'm the first sergeant.

In reality, we are here for just one purpose, and that is to keep a 24-hour watch on a radar "bubble" located 2,100 feet straight up on top of a mountain and accessible only by an electrically operated cable car which we call the "train".

We live and most of us work in a group of buildings, all connected by enclosed walkways, which is the base camp. The base camp is so complete that it is possible for certain people to work here a full year and never have been outside except to get here and leave.

We have a 5,000 foot airstrip which keeps us supplied by air from Fairbanks.

Once each year, a ship lands to bring large bulky items of supply and long time storage foodstuffs. We have a small mail plane (Alaska Airlines) once each week. Except for that we are 100 per cent physically cut off from everything. We have everything here that we would have at home except television.

The wind blows almost constantly. Occasionally, it lays to for a good snowstorm. When it isn't actually snowing, it is blowing to the extent that you can't tell if the snow is falling or blowing off the mountain. Today the weather people said it didn't snow but there is a four foot drift of snow over the steps into my office.

The wind averages 24 to 35 mph here at the base camp and 75 to 85 mph at the bubble site. It has been clocked at 240 mph at the peak of a storm at the bubble and 115 mph at the base camp.

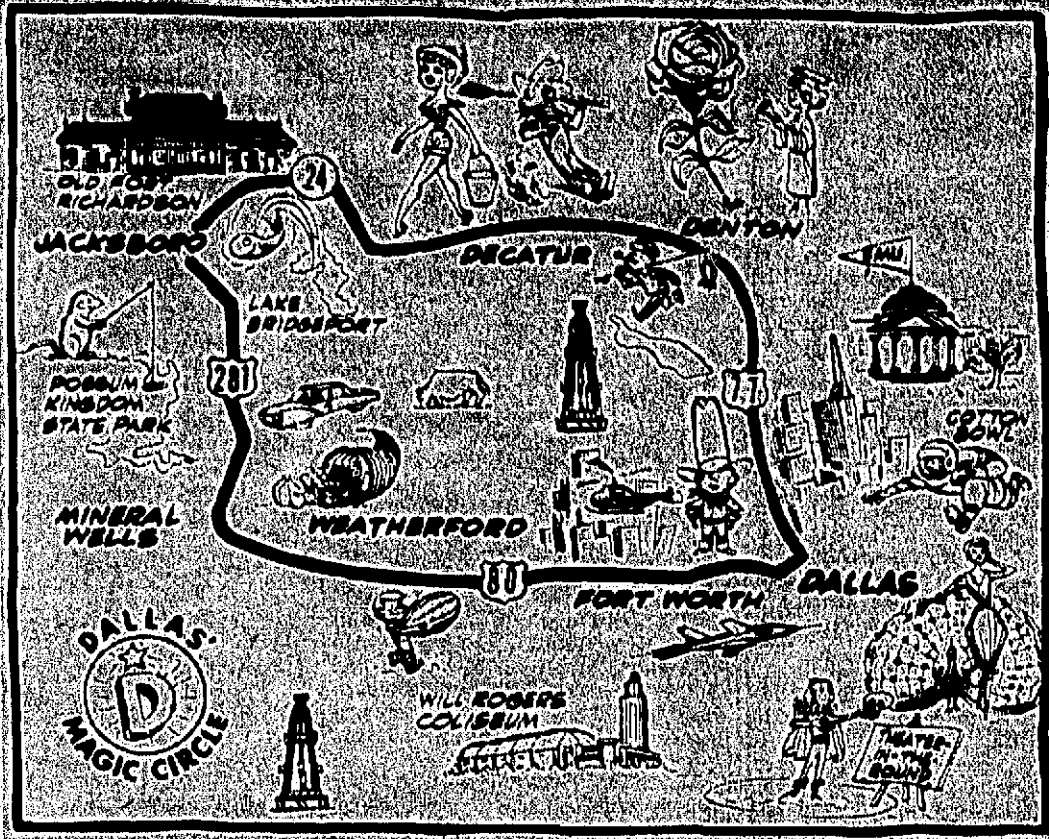

We have many problems here. Transportation is one of the main ones. The airstrip is only a mile and the train is only a half mile from the base camp but at times they are as far as six to eight hours away. We have jeeps, trailers, trucks and caterpillars, but you can't see 10 feet in front of you so they are useless.

Survival is uppermost. Survival depends mainly on heat and shelter. Fire would deprive us of those and is the most important single factor here. If the base camp should burn, we have had it.

The buildings are all steam heated and comfortable except for an occasional drift when someone forgets to shut a door. We have two man rooms with closets and dressers, beds with inner-spring mattresses. The food is good and the people are exceptionally pleasant under the strain. We have a theater, clubs, hobby shops, gymnasium, laundry exchange, library and recreation room, barber shop and a hospital.

Well, now you know where I am and what I do. I left home Oct. 24th and flew to Dallas, Los Angeles, Salt Lake, Anchorage, Fairbanks, Ketchikan, Nome and North Cape. So now you know how I got here.

'Big D' (Dallas) Spells Tall Buildings, Fashions, Theaters, Football, for Tourist

ATHENS OF THE SOUTHWEST is "Big D," as Texans refer to Dallas, glittering skyscraper city of fashion, music, art, theater, Southern Methodist University and the Cotton Bowl. The Magic Circle west leads to friendly Fort Worth, "Cowtown, U. S. A." A modern city of expressways. It also is a manufacturing center of helicopters and supersonic bombers. Next is Weatherford, watermelon capital. Mineral Wells is known for its "Crazy Water." The Pecos, Kingdom country of lakes, fishing and leisurely life; Jacksboro and Ft. Richardson, being restored to the glory it once knew as a U. S. Cavalry post; Decatur, dairy and agricultural center; Denton, city of roses and Texas Woman's University.

Editor's Note: This is the eighth in a series of suggested highway tour maps which Hope Star will publish on a weekly basis. The series will cover a South and Southwest during the winter months, and the North and West during the spring. This is excellent material to cut out and paste up in a scrapbook for future reference when planning your vacation trip.

By EDWARD COLLIER

"Big D," as Texans often refer to Dallas, has become the Athens of the Southwest.

To visitors who make it the objective of weekend trips, the glittering city of skyscrapers stands for world famed fashion salons and the theater, music and the arts, football and fun.

Not illogically, we started our Magic Circle tour where the lady of the family chose, in Big D, that always is downtown at the store which has had such a dynamic influence on the world's fashions, and of which it has been said, "Neiman Marcus is not just a store — it's a feminine state of mind." Across the street I discovered the biocloning Cakesbury bookstore, which Texans claim is largest in the world and where over half the state buys books.

State Fair Mecca

Once these cities were over, we drove out Commerce Street to the next Dallas Mecca, the State Fair Grounds. The myriad attractions here range from a gay Midway to the Hall of State, where heroes of the Republic of Texas are honored. The State Fair itself is an annual October highlight; big name Broadway stars come in person to Fair Park Auditorium; there is a reward at the Museum of Fine Arts; no one should miss Margo Jones' theater-in-the-round, first of its kind and so successful it's been copied all over the U. S.

But the big thrill, from September to New Year's Day, is the Cotton Bowl, complete of the State Fair. A banquet table, seeing a football game here is unforgettable, especially if you have just driven in from the East. The wonderful western friendliness, Texas pride, is evident from those all around you. After the hushed crowd rises for the Star Spangled Banner, a minister gives an invocation over the public address system. The reverent silence is then broken by unexpressed, cheering Texans of the Southwest Conference type of bone jarring, pass-happy football gets underway.

To complete the Magic Circle within the city, we followed Central Expressway from downtown Dallas north to Mockingbird Lane and then to a particular pride of Dallas, Southern Methodist University, which has become a great cultural center in the Southwest. More than 50 buildings of formal red brick Georgian architectural style make up this eye-appealing campus. SMU's fame ranges from its Legal Center and music to theology and gridiron glory.

For a sample of how Texas millions live, Dallas style, drive along Turtle Creek Boulevard. The palatial mansions are in dazzling array along the winding creek. Lawns are terraced to the edge of the stream with acres of agaves, redbud, dogwood and camellias under constant care of expert gardeners. The boulevard runs into Cedar Springs Avenue, known as "Antique Row" whose shops rival those of the French Quarters in New Orleans.

Conviction Follows Cuba TV Trial

By ROBERT BERRELL

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The defendant in Havana's first show case war crimes trial was convicted yesterday and sentenced to death.

A three-man tribunal of Elder, a U. S. A. revolutionary officer, found Miguel Sosa, 51, a career army officer, guilty on five counts of murder, homicide, robbery, looting and damage.

The verdict was returned after a trial of almost eight hours and more than four hours of deliberation by the three judges.

A crowd of 17,000 shouting, cheering Cubans who had jammed the Havana Sports Palace for the start of the trial had gone home hours before. Only about 300 newsmen and armed, bearded guards from Castro's forces, heard the verdict as it was read out in the sports arena.

Sosa Blanco's counsel, Capt. Aristides Decosta, had said he would appeal a conviction to a five-man Superior Court provided under the new legal code put in.

Editor May Be New Envoy to Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources privately confirmed today that Ogden R. Reid, former president and editor of the New York Herald Tribune, is under consideration for ambassador to Israel.

Officially, the State Department declined to comment.

Appointments are made by the White House, officials pointed out. Furthermore, they added privately, Reid's selection is in the preliminary stage.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, was asked earlier about a report in the New York Times that the possibility of naming Reid for the post had been discussed at the White House and with New York State Republican leaders.

"I haven't anything to say," was Hagerty's reply.

Reid has been considered for some appointment ever since John Hay Whitney, U. S. ambassador to London, acquired control of the New York Herald Tribune last August.

Killing Too Many Foxes in Newton
JASPER, Ark. (AP) — They're killing too many foxes in Newton County.

So many that a $400 appropriation for bounties on fox scalps has been exhausted.

The Newton County Quorum Court appropriated the money — along with $500 for bounties on bobcats and wolves.

At $2 for each fox scalp, the appropriation covered 200 bounties. County Clerk Beecher Clark says that quota has been met and he's had to turn down several scalps recently.

"Just too many dead foxes," he observed.

The situation is a little brighter on bounties for bobcats and wolves. Only $100 in $5 bounties has been paid out for killing them.

Allies Urged to Produce New Ideas

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Acheson has urged U. S. allies, particularly West Germany, to produce some basic new ideas on German reunification for possible proposals to the Soviet Union.

Reporting this Friday, informants said that Acheson and his advisors are particularly interested in the possibility that a plan might be devised for a German confederation. They are looking for some plan which would offer a constructive, fresh approach to reunifying Germany and on which the Soviet government might be willing to negotiate.

The U. S. view any confederation plan would have to provide at least for a central government with control over such matters as foreign policy. Moscow proposed confederation in a Jan. 10 note but indicated it would be little more than a facade for continuing West Germany and Communist East Germany as completely independent states.

The German problem is being attacked on three fronts in the biggest review since 1955 of where the West stands on this whole crucial matter:

1. The most immediate problem is to prepare a reply to the Soviet Jan. 10 note, which calls for a 28-nation peace conference in March to write a German peace treaty. A peace treaty draft, which the Western governments branded as unacceptable, was offered at the same time. There is a possibility that the West may suggest a different set of peace treaty principles. But the probability is that the Western powers will call for a Big Four meeting of foreign ministers or deputy foreign ministers by early May to discuss the whole German problem.

2. Related to the problem of a reply is the more fundamental question of how the Western powers can seize the initiative with constructive proposals if they get into formal talks with the Soviet government on German issues. The United States, Britain, France and the German Federal Republic are forming a working group of State Department and embassy officials which will begin active work on the possibilities early next month.

3. Behind the policy review is the danger of a new Berlin crisis developing in May. This will result if Premier Nikita Khrushchev goes through with his plan to turn over to East Germany Soviet occupation authority in East Berlin and over the communications lines between West Germany and West Berlin.

Cost of Living in Slight Dip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs dipped two-tenths of one per cent in December — their first decline since August.

Lower prices for food, automobiles and clothing over balanced increases in rents, other housing items, medical care and other consumer costs.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics price index declined to 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average, the base.

In reporting this today, the bureau noted the index stood 1.7 per cent higher than December, 1957. The December index was exactly the same as that of last September and last June.

Some 700,000 workers whose pay rates are geared to quarterly and semi-annual adjustments of the index consequently will receive no change in pay.

Showcase Trials Abandoned by Cuba's Castro

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

HAVANA (AP) — An appeal court considered today the death sentence given in a circus setting at the first public war crimes trial. The two remaining showcase trials were postponed until Monday.

Revolutionary leader Fidel Castro reportedly suggested a radio and television blackout on the trial to avoid too much public excitement. An aroused crowd threatened the next two defendants today.

Foreign correspondents, invited to the trials had criticized the carnival atmosphere of the trial which opened Thursday before 17,000 shouting Cubans and ended Friday morning with many still watching on television.

A sampling of opinion among the 322 foreign newsmen reported to the legal procedure used, however. Better understanding abroad of the provisional government's aims was foreseen as a result of the public trials.

Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco, 51, a career army man, was convicted on charges of murdering at least 25 persons in Oriente province, scene of the bitterest fighting in Castro's two-year rebellion that overthrew dictator Fulgencio Batista on January 1.

The 3-man military tribunal that convicted Sosa Blanco sentenced him to die before a firing squad. The tribunal president, Maj. Humberto Sorí Marín, announced that a 5-member Superior War Council had agreed to hear Sosa Blanco's appeal.

There was no indication when the appeal court would reach a verdict.

Sorí Marín announced the postponement of trials for Lt. Col. Ricardo Luis Grau, 45, and Capt. Pedro Morejon, 38, also career army men. The trials finally were set for Monday afternoon after first being delayed 24 hours.

Arkansas Soldier Is Indicted

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Two sailors, one of them from Arkansas, were indicted by the Fayette County Grand Jury yesterday on a charge of false imprisonment.

The charge was placed against Jerrall A. Thrasher, 19, of Judsonia, Ark., and Lonas E. Barnes, 21, of Lake City, Tenn. They were accused of abducting John B. Von derhaar, 29, of Lexington, and taking him to Knoxville last month.

Both sailors were on leave from the diver's carrier Princeton when they were arrested Dec. 12.

Court Asked to Overturn Verdict

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A paragon physician yesterday asked the Arkansas Supreme Court to overturn a $62,887 verdict against him in a suit over an airplane crash.

The money was awarded by a Craighead Circuit Court jury to the widow of Charles H. Busby, 32, a Jonesboro flight instructor who was killed in the crash along with Billy Wayne Robinson, 23, of Paragould.

Dr. J. H. Massey, 61, of North Little Rock, the first man arrested, and Clarence Wade, 40, of Little Rock, were jailed on open charges. The club is located on the old Hot Springs Highway about six miles southwest of Little Rock.

March of Dimes Continues to Mean the March of Progress

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Through the years, the March of Dimes has meant the March of progress in the fight to conquer the dread disease, poliomyelitis. The discovery of the Salk vaccine nearer to realization. But the battle is not over.

The National Foundation has dropped the words, Infantile Paralysis, from its name simply because its research staff can now concentrate on discovering the ways and means to help the medical problems of such difficulties as arthritis and birth defects.

The National Foundation is still vitally active in helping those who have suffered the ravages of "polio" there are 12 such people in our own Hempstead County, but it can now expand its research to help even more people.

Everyone agrees on two things: 1. All of this is wonderful — past accomplishments and future hopes; 2. All of this costs money.

On behalf of the $5,900 goal which Hempstead County has for its 1959 March of Dimes, various activities have been conducted such as the performance of the Centenary College "Singing Ambassadors," basketball games played in different parts of the county, "coffee" held in downtown cafes by local civic groups, and showing the film, "The Challenge," on countless occasions by Raymond Hughes, county campaign director, and by Dale Dunn, city campaign director.

Climaxing the teenagers' participation in the local campaign are a number of activities today, Charles Gough has announced, as their advisor. There will be local participation in a television KCMC-TV, a city-wide sale of Blue Crutches by Girl Scouts, and a chili supper at the W. O. W. Hall with the price of 25¢ per bowl going to this worthy cause.

A dance will follow the chili supper, and it will be held at the Youth Center. Special guests for tonight will be Miss Linda Clark and Don Riggins, both of Little Rock University. They are Teen-age Activity Chairmen of the Arkansas branch of T. A. P., a national organization of teenagers in the March of Dimes campaign.

Also tonight, results will be given of the contest to pick the ugliest teacher at Hope High. Sponsored by the Key Club, the price of the votes will go to the March of Dimes. (And, for once, this was a campaign which openly encouraged the purchase of votes.)

Plans are underway for several methods of participation next week, the final week in the 1959 March of Dimes. In case you are not contacted in some way or are not prepared at the time you are contacted, you are asked by the campaign treasurer, Carl Ward, to send any contribution to: March of Dimes; c/o First National Bank; Hope.

Let's make the 1959 March of Dimes a March of Progress in the fight to conquer polio, arthritis, and birth defects.

Army to Sell Ordnance Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army plans to put the Maumelle Ordnance Plant near Little Rock up for sale.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said yesterday he had been notified that the Army will declare the plant surplus.

Fulbright recently asked that the plant, which has been on a standby basis, either be used or turned over to private industry. He said it was going to waste otherwise.

The plant was kept as a standby because of a Navy requirement for ammonium picrate, used in making armor-piercing shells. Fulbright said the shells are virtually obsolete now.

Fulbright said it may take five or six months to complete the sale.

Pennsylvania Flood Damage in Millions

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A flood that caused millions of dollars damage in Pennsylvania rolled down the Ohio River Valley today with diminishing force.

In areas west and south of Pittsburgh the crest swept past at lower than predicted levels and with relatively slight damage. East Liverpool, Ohio, reported the worst was eight feet above the city's theoretical flood stage but damage was only minor.

Many huge freight-carrying barges, ripped from their moorings, streamed down the river on the ice-choked tide. Some sank. Some banged into bridge pillars with shuddering impact. One snapped a guy wire of the suspension bridge at Wheeling, W. Va. Spectators said the sound was like the twanging of a giant guitar.

Worst Pennsylvania flood spots this morning were far up on the Ohio headwaters at Meadville, Pa., and at Sharon, Pa.

A two-mile long ice jam choked French Creek, backing record high waters into Meadville. Fire officials aiding in the rescue work Continued on Page Two

Had All Tools for Safe Cracking

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A bottle of nitroglycerine, a couple of feet of primer fuse, a wrecking bar and three screw drivers make a first class kit for safe cracking.

So thought Pulaski Deputies Bryan Carmichael and Paul Rogers, who stopped a man carrying those items in the vicinity of the Starlite Club on a highway near Little Rock today.

The man admitted he broke into the establishment with his tools. But the night club closed down two months ago and the safe was taken out then.

The officers put the man in their patrol car and started hunting a companion he had mentioned. They found the second man sitting in a parked car and took him along, too. His car contained a bag holding several screw drivers, a crowbar, two hammers and other tools.

Clifford Massey, 61, of North Little Rock, the first man arrested, and Clarence Wade, 40, of Little Rock, were jailed on open charges. The club is located on the old Hot Springs Highway about six miles southwest of Little Rock.

Seizes Airport at Havana With 3 Men

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Along the more dashing figures of the Cuban revolution is Spanish-born Capt. Jose Ramon Gonzalez Regueral, writer, photographer, soldier and adventurer. In the first few hours after President Fulgencio Batista fled the island on Jan. 1, it was not known whether his army would fight Fidel Castro's rebels. Here, Gonzalez-Regueral tells how he boldly took Havana International Airport with three men and La Cabana Fortress with seven.)

By Capt. Jose Gonzalez-Regueral As Told To Charles Schuman United Press International

HAVANA (UPI) — Batista's abdication came as a surprise to many of us and there was no emergency plan to cover such a move.

So it was that in those first hours every man in Castro's 20th of July movement had to think and act for himself. I learned at about 8 a. m. of Batista's flight and took a quick tour of the city in my car. I found it quiet.

If there was going to be any trouble, I reasoned, it will be at the airport, so I drove there, where I found three other rebels. We had all heard the rebel radio and knew that CMQ, the city's main radio and television outlet, had been captured. The rebel radio had ordered a general strike.

Only One Pistol

Only one of us had a pistol, but we decided our job was to take over the airport, which was still functioning at normal pace. We had to shut it down and let the world know the revolution was effective.

But there were about 30 national police on duty, as well as some military intelligence men. I decided to try to bluff our way through.

I went up to the police command post and said:

Another Rocket Burns Out Quickly

By JACK KING
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force fired another huge rocket carrying an ICBM today, the powerful missile flamed out shortly after launching. The attempt to propel the 90-foot Thor-Able rocket 4,400 miles failed when the second stage fizzled out shortly after launching. The missile was equipped with a miniature version of the Titan Intercontinental Range Ballistic Missile guidance system to attain greater accuracy over the long range ocean flight. The "brains" of the rocket never got a chance to do the job, however, when the second stage failed to ignite. The cause of the trouble was not known immediately. This was the fourth attempt to shoot an advanced, highly instrumented cone close to intercontinental range and retrieve it from the ocean depths for study. None has been recovered. The first three ventures included mouse passengers but as far as it was known there were no live riders this time.

Effect after dictator Fulgencio Batista's overthrow Jan. 1. The highest court has not yet been named.

Decosta had challenged the legality of trials under that code, contending that all crimes charged to Social Bators were allegedly committed before Jan. 1 and that the death penalty did not exist then.

The Cuban Constitution of 1940 barred capital punishment. It was modified by decree Jan. 15 to permit executions for war crimes. Decosta's argument also applied to the estimated 1,500 Batista prisoners arrested since the dictator's overthrow, and to the 250 or more persons already executed by Castro's firing squads.

Sosa Blanco's trial was the first of three Castro had announced for the Havana Sports Palace to testify to the world his speedy military judgment of Batistas, some 250 of whom have already been executed.

Another trial was scheduled to get under way this afternoon, but it was not known how the slow progress of the first hearing would affect the schedule.

Nearly 400 foreign newsmen were in Havana at Castro's invitation for the demonstration of his justice.

The revolutionary chief told a news conference Thursday that the trials and executions will end as soon as possible an end soon to the better. Only the most notorious criminals are being selected for trials before revolutionary tribunals.

The bearded leader, who now is chief of Cuban armed forces, repeated his estimate that "not more than 400" persons will be executed for the 20,000 murders he claims Batista's dictatorship perpetrated in its six-year reign.

mander unarmed and told him who I was.

"I've got a hundred men surrounding the place," I told him. "Do you want to fight, surrender, or join us?"

"We'll join you," the commander replied, much to my relief. He even offered to turn his gun over to me, but I told him to keep it. Minutes later some men in military uniforms came prowling toward us.

"We four men, armed with a single pistol, had taken the airport without firing a shot."

"Have Workers Support From the airport I went to CMQ, rebel radio headquarters. We had only a dozen armed men there, but nearly all the workers were on our side."

"At about 2 a. m. on Jan. 2, my wife, Maritza was on the CMQ switchboard when a call came from 'El Cotorro, about 15 miles west of Havana. A man who said he was Maj. Che Guevara said he was en route to La Cabana Fort in Havana Harbor to take it over."

"I wasn't sure I trust him, so I called La Cabana and an officer who identified himself as Lt. Col. Valera Castro said he was ready to surrender the fortress to the rebels. He asked me to accept the surrender."

"I decided that if the fortress really intended to surrender, eight men could accept it as well as 200, so that's how many of us set out into the night."

"There was no shooting. Col. Castro walked up to me, saluted, and said, 'Col. Castro, turning over command of La Cabana.'" said 1,500 were homeless. Roads to the south were blocked. Residents of Sharon, 45 miles northwest of Pittsburgh, found the heart of their city under water for the second successive morning. The Shenango River which overtopped Wednesday night stood three feet deep in parts of a 10-block area of the business district. Some 800 persons were housed in emergency shelter or with friends.

Downstream at New Castle, Pa. the Shenango was receding a half inch an hour after cresting at midnight.

DOROTHY DIX

Hubby to Enjoy Hobby on Wife's Spare Time

Dear Dorothy Dix:
Why can't a girl have a boy? I'm a good friend without ever having blowing a gasket? When I meet a boy and he asks for a date, I always ask Mom's permission before I accept. When I bring up the subject she acts as though she'd been hit by an atom bomb. After she meets the boy she knows I'm somewhat but it's the same old story with the next one. I know I'm a good sense and she knows I'm a good sense. I was planning to write you right away. Mother's Darling.

Dear Darling: You'll never know the answer to your question until you have daughters of your own. It practically always comes as a shock to mothers when their must face the fact that their little girls are old enough to date. Why? I'll let you in on a secret. A dating daughter puts mom in the "approaching-middle-age" bracket and no woman likes to "admit" that. Yours is a perfectly normal mom and she has a fine daughter. Things will work out nicely in your case.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I am only 9% but have a problem. My teeth have small cavities and they're very discolored. The boys in my class call me "Pinky," and I don't like it at all. Can you help me? — Wendy.
Dear Wendy: Take your problem to the dentist. He has the answers. If your folks can't afford dental care, see the school nurse who will recommend a clinic. I'm surprised that your mother hasn't already attended to this very important matter.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
Have you ever heard of a case like this? A friend of mine is about to be married. She is in her middle twenties and this will be her first marriage. The man she is going to marry is over 40 and here is part of his "past" three marriages: No 1 because the girl was pregnant; No 2 because the girl had already borne his child and No 3 after he had lived with the woman for three years. This will be No. 4. He never sees his children or contributed to their support. He also admits to other affairs. The girl knows all this but

THE STORY: With Jed Mims, Gil Yeager pays a visit to his old ranch which has been seized by Meade Bastian's powerful "cat the combine."

Chapter XI
Yeager spurred down slope, Jed Mims at his heels, hailing guardedly: "One of those jiggers in front of the house is Mitch Starker. Other's the big boss of the combine." Meade Bastian!

Alerted by the approach of Yeager and Jed Mims, the two men had named dropped their argument, turned and stood staring. So solidly and evenly built was Bastian a bigger man than seemed. His features were clean cut, a little on the narrow side for two marring touches, one of which was a mouth with a definite line of cruelty in it; the other a pair of eyes as blankly gray and merciless as those of a hunting hawk.

Gil Yeager recognized him as the one who had last night left Patch Kelly's store with Laurie Benedict. And meeting the "pimp" of those strange eyes in which pupil and iris seemed to blend all to the same color, and revealing shade, he remembered something Johnny Hook had said, "Yeah," Mitch Starker said, "that's Yeager. He half killed Rand with his fists. But if Brick had let me take him, it'd been a different story!"

Meade Bastian considered Yeager with a long and unwinking intensity. Finally he spoke. "The way you came down that slope, Mister, a man might think you intended doing something."

A cool one, Yeager thought. And sure of himself — very sure. Johnny Jock was right. "This one was tougher stuff than Brick Rand."

Yeager made a small, swinging gesture. "Mine," he said bluntly. "All of it. Was a year ago, and still is. You got a week to clear out."

Meade Bastian put his head back and laughed. "Mitch," he exclaimed, "we got a joker with us, good for a laugh even when he talks big. Yeah, Mitch — a joker!"

"Now, there you are wrong," murmured Yeager. "It won't be funny — not funny at all the way I'll handle matters. You heard what I said. A week to clear out. After that it could get rough, then abruptly dissolved into a bit of an order."

"Because he made out mauling Rand, he's gone proud. He's a fool who needs a lesson. Mitch, yank him out of that saddle and give him one!"

While he spoke, Bastian was sliding a hand up inside the oarvas coat he wore. Jed Mims words hit him like a club. "Don't try it, Bastian. Leave that shoulder gun where it is!"

Meade Bastian froze. But his locks and dams. There were no reports of serious bridge damage.

Merger of Two Large U. S. Banks Possible

NEW YORK (AP) — The fourth and seventh largest banks in the nation are exploring the possibility of a merger.
They are the Manufacturers Trust Co. and the Chase Manhattan Bank. The fourth largest bank with assets of $2,644,000,000 and the Chase Manhattan Bank with assets of $2,225,000,000. If the banks unite, their combined assets still would not match the First National City Bank of New York, the nation's third largest bank with assets of $7,926,000,000.

The largest is the Bank of America in San Francisco and the second largest is the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York.

State Surplus Food Valued at $851,565

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Surplus food valued at $851,565 was distributed to needy families in 40 Arkansas counties in December, state Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams said yesterday. Counties which did not participate in distribution of the 3,472,888 pounds of food were Benton, Crittenden, Dallas, Drew, Hempstead, Lafayette, Lee, Lonoke and Newton. Adams said that in addition to the food given needy families, 1,350,000 pounds valued at $34,870 went to 981 schools with 200,000 pupils, and 100,177 pounds valued at $40,802 went to 55 state institutions with 10,143 persons.

Mickey Busy With Bowling Center

DALLAS (AP) — Mickey Mantle is busy with the opening of his new bowling center, but not too busy to let it be known he doesn't like the contract the New York Yankees offered him.

"I feel fine. I've felt fine all winter. Haven't had any trouble with my knee or anything. I really feel good and I think I'm going to have as good a year as I've ever had, and I've had some good ones," said Mantle, Wednesday.

"I want a substantial pay increase," he said flatly. He denied he was offered a pay cut, but said he wanted more than he was offered.

"We don't discuss prices," he said, but his salary last year was estimated at $75,000 and he reportedly wants at least $85,000 this year.

News Briefs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus yesterday named J. Lester Booker of Little Rock to serve temporarily on the Arkansas Corporation Commission.

Booker will assume the post left vacant by Arthur Shirley of Lewisville, who is serving as secretary.

Episcopals Elect New President

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — William H. Drew of Lake Village was elected president of the Episcopal Diocese of Arkansas yesterday at the diocese's 87th annual meeting. Officers of the diocese were scheduled to be elected and installed today, final day of the two-day convention.

Drew succeeds Eugene Warren of Little Rock. Other new officers include Claude B. Shenhausen of West Memphis, vice president, and Byron Morse of Little Rock, secretary-treasurer.

Regional vice presidents are Murray Lancaster Jr. of Forrest City, W. W. Phillips Jr. of Pine Bluff, W. M. Masey of Batesville, Charles V. Dixon of Ford Smith, and J. Williams of Hot Springs. Directors are Charles Warriner of Pine Bluff, John Brainerd of Little Rock, Allen Beall of Helena, Judson Hout of Newport, Marion Crank of Foreman, Claude B.

of the Senate. Faubus indicated that Shirley will be given a new term on the commission just before the legislature adjourns.

OUTDOORS

with John Alden Knight

A certain gentleman, a bluffer of a medium-sized city in Pennsylvania, while reading his news paper one evening, was interrupted by his high school age son. The boy told him of another youngster in high school who boasted of bringing home a "mixed bag" the Saturday before.

The mixed bag was composed of one ruffed grouse, one butterball duck, and two brown trout. All of the items mentioned were taken with a twenty-two rifle. Moreover, the trout season had long been closed and the hunting season had not yet opened. In short, the mixed bag was 100% illegal.

The man was both a fisherman and a hunter and he questioned the boy closely. Then he called up the local game warden, a friend of his. Shortly thereafter, the warden called at the house of the "mixed bag" hunter and had a long talk with both him and his father.

Time went on and the hunting season arrived. Thinking back on the mixed-bag episode, the man told his son to ask this youngster whether he wouldn't like to go woodcock hunting. The boy went along and he found out, all in one afternoon, what joys the outdoors has to offer the sportsman who is well equipped and who knows his business.

The boy took to hunting and fishing like a duck takes to water. He was a natural. Gradually he accumulated adequate gear—a good gun, a good fly rod, etc. He learned to tie his own trout flies and bass bugs. Before long he was not only a regular member of the party in hunting and fishing trips, he became practically a member of the family.

Following both suggestion and example, the youngster, instead of being content with merely a high school education, went on to obtain his college diploma. Today he holds a responsible key position in the Conservation Department of one of our good hunting and fishing states. What, we wonder, would have happened to that boy should he have decided not to go woodcock shooting on that fateful afternoon.

With this one instance in mind, consider this little news story which came in recently from Wisconsin.

consist. Here it is, just as we received it—

"Madison, Wis. — In a letter to a complaining mother, Supervising Warden, Chauncey A. Weitz, Black River Falls, agrees that it should not be the function of a warden to discipline teenagers but that it becomes necessary where parents neglect that duty. The mother's son was one of three youngsters trying to escape with a deer in their car. The mother contended the apprehending warden was 'sneaky.' Weitz pointed out that if the youngsters were properly supervised they would not have been out in a car at 5 a. m. with 17 cans of beer for which one of the boys was fined."

Again, we can't help but wonder what will happen to these boys when they grow to maturity. Here's hoping that some interested sportsman, or group of sportsmen, takes a hand in seeing to it that these youngsters are set on the right path before it is too late. Of course, there are quite a few organizations formulated solely to lend a helping hand to youngsters who may not have the right home environment for healthy adolescence. Perhaps the best-known of these is the "Big Brother" outfit, a youngster and assumes the responsibility of guidance through the teenage years.

The late J. Hammond Brown, for years the perennial President of the Outdoor Writers' Association of America, originated and organized about twenty years ago The Order of the Jungle Cook. He was happy to serve on the original board of directors of that group. Fundamentally, the purpose of this informal group was pretty much the same as that of the Big Brothers. Each member who was enrolled pledged himself to take a boy fishing at least once a year. At the annual outing, held each May at Thurmont, Maryland, no member may attend unless accompanied by a boy.

Of course, taking a boy fishing was no problem in those days: My son was then in his teens and was my constant companion in the outdoors. But he is a grown man now with a little boy of his own. So I must take boys with me whose fathers happen not to be fishermen.

Taking a boy fishing, an absolute beginner, can be a trying and tiresome job. There is so much for them to learn and teaching them requires much tact and endless patience. But that vast amount of expended patience is its own reward when you see your young uppl improve his technique to the point where he is, at last, self-sufficient. Then it is indeed a pleasure to sit by and watch the youngster put to good use the lessons you have given him. A boy has such an unbounded sense of enthusiasm that through him you can live your youth all over again. Try it next season; take a youngster with you and see for

Hope Wins Two From Badgers of Arkadelphia

In two games here last night with Arkadelphia the Hope Bobcats and the Junior Bobcats came out on top. It was the third conference win against no losses for the Bobcats.

David Watkins headed the scoring department with 20 points. Bill Hirt tossed in 14, Johnny Graves 12 and Smiley 8 in the 39-point sparring. Arkadelphia registered 40 points with Hardin tallying 18 and McMillan 12.

Hope led 13 to 12 at the end of the first period and the score was tied 24 all at the half. Then the Bobcats got rolling and made it 40 to 34 at the end of three and scored 18 points to Arkadelphia's 12 in the final period.

The local Juniors edged the highly regarded Arkadelphia team 26 to 24. Porterfield was high point with 11, Hooten made six. Stoker and Estes made seven each for Arkadelphia. The victory gave the Kittens a record of two wins and a loss in conference play.

'Big D' (Dallas)

out of Big D is just 32 miles to Fort Worth, but the two cities are a thousand miles apart in almost every other way. Their rivalry is a constantly running, though good-natured light.

Fort Worth, "Cowtown, USA," plays up the slogan "Out where the West begins." Although it's a large modern city of expressways, the traditional flavor and feel of the open range is there in its hangout, talk, back slapping, big-batted way. You still see more 10-gallon hats and high-heeled boots here than anywhere else.

Clean, attractive, fast-growing and filled with beautiful parks, Fort Worth is one of the wonders of the Lone Star State — how it came to be a city where no city was really needed. It was built by Texas gusto and Dallas boosters grumble, plain cussedness and a grudge against Big D.

Regardless of its origin, the city today has a growing aircraft industry that manufactures helicopters and B-58 supersonic bombers, and is the home of Carswell Air Force Base. Citizens took particular pride in telling us about Texas Christian University. Real humor goes into the support of TCU's football warriors.

The Southwest Exposition and Fair Stock Show each winter is Fort Worth's answer to Dallas' State Fair. The Will Rogers Rogers Memorial Coliseum is an imposing structure with a statue of the beloved American enshrined in front.

Other highlights of our exploration was the Fine Arts Center, the Children's Museum, Regent Park Zoo and the lovely Botanic Gardens.

Meion Capitol.

Continuing our Magic Circle west, we still were within sight of the city's skyscrapers when we began to pass herds of white-faced cattle grazing on the lush grasses that cover the prairies. First stop was at the old farm community of Weatherford, watermelon capital of Texas. In addition to the juicy, striped black-cored beauties, Market Square in the summer is a giant cornucopia ablaze with brightly colored from piles of tomatoes, Spanish peanuts, radishes, Japanese persimmons and sweet potatoes. Tons of soft-shelled pecans are shipped in the fall; in the spring peach orchards splash the countryside with bright pink.

On west (U. S. 180) from Weatherford, you drop down from the prairies into a valley winding among the Palo Pinto Hills. In contrast to the vivid red "breaks" are the gray-green sagebrush, large cacti and the gnarled, prickly-pear cactus trees — known as "cholla" water thieves' — against which ranchers wage a constant battle.

Next stop is Mineral Wells, favorite Texas spa visited by guests from all over the world because of its medicinal springs, known as "Crazy Water." There's even a "Crazy Hotel." Like other visitors, we stopped our automobile to gaze

Leisure Land

West of Mineral Wells is the Possum Kingdom country of scenic drives, wooded parks, fishing, camping, boating — a leisurely land to which we promised ourselves a full visit on another Texas weekend trip. North (U. S. 281) is Jackboro, a relaxed town untouched by oil fever, where lacy mesquite trees and bright flower gardens surrounded the weathered yellow stone buildings. It dreams in the hot summer sun of nearby Fort Richardson in whose heyday history was made by the U. S. Cavalry. The fort is set in a 40-acre park and has been partially restored. Farmers and ranchers still come in town to "trade" on Saturday and visit with friends.

The Magic Circle curves east here (State 24) to Decatur, shipping and shopping center for a large dairy and agricultural section. Waggoner, Menard and Decatur Baptist College are show places. That town is only a 20-minute drive from five beautiful lakes including Lake Bridgeport, which has excellent crappie and bass fishing.

Denton, famed in the Southwest for its roses, is dominated by two fine colleges. North Texas State is proud of the Weaver collections of children's literature, early American glassware and 400 dolls from

News Briefs

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A six-year record was set when a shipment of mixed steers and heifers brought $30.50 a hundred on the St. Joseph livestock market yesterday.

It also was the best load-in price for any cattle since May, when steers peaked at $31.00.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A trade journal editor, yesterday predicted a steady rise in all types of construction in Arkansas this year.

John W. Parrish, executive editor of the Building Supply News, Chicago, said the state's increase in building for the year would reach six per cent if it conformed to a national pattern.

Parrish spoke at a session of the first annual Arkansas Builders Forum, attended by about 100 Arkansas builders.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — If the mayor of an incorporated town resigns, the city council may appoint someone to serve as mayor until the next biennial election, the attorney general's office ruled yesterday.

Annie L. Christian, recorder and treasurer at Ozan in Hempstead County asked for the opinion.

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — William E. McCoy, city clerk and field auditor for the state Revenue Department, died at a hospital here yesterday after a lengthy illness. He was 54.

Survivors include his widow. Funeral services will be held here Sunday.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval B. Faubus was out of the capital today in order to attend the funeral at Huntsville of Kelly Connel, state Controller who died here Monday.

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Oil and Gas Commission plans to ask the Legislature for authority and money to buy land and construct its own building here. The commission voted the action yesterday and delegated Chairman O. C. Bailey to take the request to the Legislature.

In other action, the commission set daily allowable oil production at controlled pools at 85,000 barrels, the same as the last quota.

50 countries. On the other side of town is the beautiful campus of Texas Woman's University with its lily pools, lagoons, rock walls and botanical gardens.

The route back (U. S. 77) to Big D curves south here and follows Trinity River. Fields of cotton, corn, soybeans, berries and fruit break up the wooded areas. And there's good fishing on the lazy Trinity, white perch, yellow catfish, drum and carp.

STRENGTHEN YOUR FAITH

Through Regular Church Worship

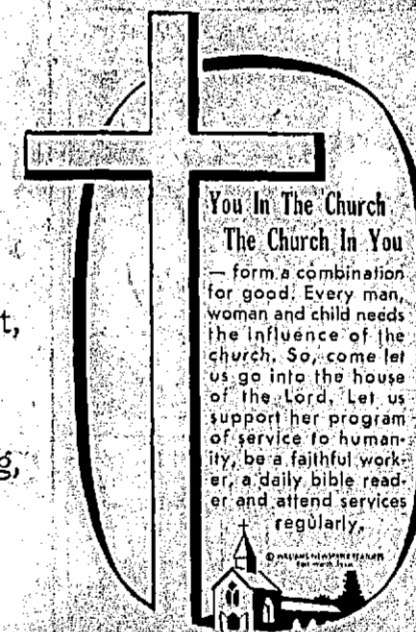

INSPIRATION

What makes a champion? What is that extra force inherent in a great leader, teacher, musician, scientist, or a Christian? This extra force, this compelling quality, this something has a current all its own... out-shining our every-day efforts. It turns the common into the outstanding. It has been called "inspiration" and surely it must be just that. Want to possess it??? Of course! — then keep an open heart, a clear unprejudiced mind, clean body, and a receptiveness to the will and word of God. Learn of Him through regular church attendance and daily reading of His word. Only through God may we find this something, — this force, — this inspiration. "There is a spirit in man; and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding."

This Page Is Dedicated to the Building of More Spiritual and a Greater Church-going Hempstead County.
